1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 10, 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Takenaka (U.S. Patent No. 5,475,248).

In regards to claim 1, Takenaka shows all the elements of the claimed invention in fig. 7. It is a semiconductor device, comprising: a lower electrode [28] formed on a substrate [21]; a capacitive insulating film [29] formed out of a ferroelectric film on the lower electrode; an upper electrode [32] formed on the capacitive insulating film; a contact layer [61] formed directly on the upper electrode [32] so as not to contact with the capacitive insulating film [29]; and an insulating film [63] formed to cover the lower electrode, the capacitive insulating film, the upper electrode and the contact layer, wherein the contact layer [61] is a single layer film, the single layer film being made of a metal nitride (TiN).

In regards to claim 10, Takenaka further discloses the upper electrode [32] contains Pt, and wherein the metal nitride film is made of a nitride of Ti.

In regards to claim 14, Takenaka inherently discloses the insulating film [63] is unlikely to peel off due to the contact layer because the contact layer [61] is made of an adhesive material (TiN).

In regards to claim 15, Takenaka inherently discloses the contact layer [61] is made from metal atoms which are unlikely to diffuse into the upper electrode [32] because the TiN contact layer [61] is formed by a sputtering method.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Takenaka in view of Kanaya et al.

In regards to claim 13, Takenaka differs from the claimed invention by not showing the ferroelectric film includes $\text{SrBi}_2\text{Ta}_2\text{O}_9$.

Kanaya et al. show the ferroelectric film [412A] of a capacitor (fig. 48) includes $\text{SrBi}_2\text{Ta}_2\text{O}_9$ (col. 22, lines 1-6).

Since both Takenaka and Kanaya et al. teach a ferroelectric film capacitor, it would have been obvious to have the $\text{SrBi}_2\text{Ta}_2\text{O}_9$ ferroelectric film of Kanaya et al. in Takenaka because it improves the capacitance of the capacitor.

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
